DISCOVERY MATTER

ORDER ON STIPULATED PROTECTIVE ORDER

21 Having considered the parties' pleadings on file to date, and the parties' 22 jointly submitted Stipulated Protective Order to govern the handling of information 23 and materials produced in the course of discovery or filed with the Court in this 24 action, the Court determines as follows:

25 GOOD CAUSE STATEMENT

26 It is the intent of the parties and the Court that information will not be 27 designated as confidential for tactical reasons in this case and that nothing shall be 28

1 designated without a good faith belief that there is good cause why it should not be 2 part of the public record of this case. Examples of confidential information that the 3 parties may seek to protect from unrestricted or unprotected disclosure include:

- 4 (a) Information that is the subject of a non-disclosure or 5 confidentiality agreement or obligation;
- 6 (b) The names, or other information tending to reveal the identity 7 of a party's supplier, designer, distributor, or customer;
- 8 (c) Agreements with third-parties, including license agreements, 9 distributor agreements, manufacturing agreements, design
10 agreements, development agreements, supply agreements, sales 11 agreements, or service agreements;
- 12 (d) Research and development information;
- 13 (e) Proprietary engineering or technical information, including 14 product design, manufacturing techniques, processing 15 information, drawings, memoranda and reports;
- 16 (f) Information related to budgets, sales, profits, costs, margins, 17 licensing of technology or designs, product pricing, or other 18 internal financial/accounting information, including non-public 19 information related to financial condition or performance and 20 income or other non-public tax information;
- 21 (g) Information related to internal operations including personnel 22 information;
- 23 (h) Information related to past, current and future product 24 development;
- 25
26
27
28

1 (i) Information related to past, current and future market analyses 2 and business and marketing development, including plans, 3 strategies, forecasts and competition; and

4 (j) Trade secrets (as defined by the jurisdiction in which the 5 information is located).
6

7 Unrestricted or unprotected disclosure of such confidential technical, 8 commercial or personal information would result in prejudice or harm to the 9 producing party by revealing the producing party's competitive confidential 10 information, which has been developed at the expense of the producing party and 11 which represents valuable tangible and intangible assets of that party.

12 Additionally, privacy interests must be safeguarded. Accordingly, the parties 13 respectfully submit that there is good cause for the entry of this Protective Order.

14 The parties agree, subject to the Court's approval, that the following terms 15 and conditions shall apply to this civil action.

16 1. Designated Material.

17 1.1 Information or material may be designated for confidential treatment 18 pursuant to this Protective Order by any party, person or entity producing or 19 lodging it in this action (the "Designating Party"), if: (a) produced or served, 20 formally or informally, pursuant to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure or in 21 response to any other formal or informal discovery request in this action; and/or 22 (b) filed or lodged with the Court. All such information and material and all 23 information or material derived from it constitutes "Designated Material" under 24 this Protective Order.

25 1.2 Unless and until otherwise ordered by the Court or agreed to in 26 writing by the parties, all Designated Materials designated under this Protective 27 Order shall be used by the parties and persons receiving such Designated 28

1 Materials solely for conducting the above-captioned litigation and any appellate 2 proceeding relating thereto. Designated Material shall not be used by any party 3 or person receiving them for any business or any other purpose. No party or 4 person shall disclose Designated Material to any other party or person not entitled 5 to receive such Designated Material under the specific terms of this Protective 6 Order. For purposes of this Protective Order, “disclose” or “disclosed” means to 7 show, furnish, reveal or provide, indirectly or directly, any portion of the 8 Designated Material or its contents, orally or in writing, including the original or 9 any copy of the Designated Material.

10 2. Access to Designated Materials.

11 2.1 Materials Designated “CONFIDENTIAL”: Subject to the limitations
12 set forth in this Protective Order, Designated Material may be marked 13 “CONFIDENTIAL” for the purpose of preventing the disclosure of information 14 or materials that the designating party in good faith believes is confidential.
15 Before designating any specific information or material “CONFIDENTIAL,” the 16 Designating Party’s counsel shall make a good faith determination that the 17 information warrants protection under Rule 26(c) of the Federal Rules of Civil 18 Procedure. Such information may include, but is not limited to:

19 (a) The financial performance or results of the Designating Party, 20 including without limitation income statements, balance sheets, cash flow 21 analyses, budget projections, and present value calculations;

22 (b) Corporate and strategic planning by the Designating Party, including 23 without limitation marketing plans, competitive intelligence reports, sales 24 projections and competitive strategy documents;

25 (c) Names, addresses, and other information that would identify 26 customers or prospective customers, or the distributors or prospective distributors 27 of the Designating Party;

28 (d) Technical data, research and development data, and any other

1 confidential commercial information, including but not limited to trade secrets of 2 the Designating Party;

3 (e) Information used by the Designating Party in or pertaining to its 4 trade or business, which information the Designating Party believes in good faith 5 has competitive value, which is not generally known to others and which the 6 Designating Party would not normally reveal to third parties except in 7 confidence, or has undertaken with others to maintain in confidence;

8 (f) Information which the Designating Party believes in good faith falls 9 within the right to privacy guaranteed by the laws of the United States or 10 California; and

11 (g) Information which the Designating Party believes in good faith to 12 constitute, contain, reveal or reflect proprietary, financial, business, technical, or 13 other confidential information.

14 (h) The fact that an item or category is listed as an example in this or 15 other sections of this Protective Order does not, by itself, render the item or 16 category discoverable.

17 2.1.0 Materials designated “CONFIDENTIAL” may be disclosed only to 18 the following Designees:

19 2.1.1 Persons who appear on the face of Designated Materials marked 20 “CONFIDENTIAL” as an author, addressee, or recipient thereof;

21 2.1.2 Counsel retained as outside litigation attorneys of record in this 22 action, and their respective associates, clerks, legal assistants, stenographic, 23 videographic and support personnel, and other employees of such outside 24 litigation attorneys, and organizations retained by such attorneys to provide 25 litigation support services in this action and the employees of said organizations.
26 “Counsel” explicitly excludes any in-house counsel whether or not they are 27 attorneys of record in this action.

28 2.1.3 Consultants, including non-party experts and consultants retained or

1 employed by Counsel to assist in the preparation of the case, to the extent they 2 are reasonably necessary to render professional services in this action, and subject 3 to the disclosure requirements of section 2.3. Each consultant must sign a 4 certification that he or she has read this Stipulated Protective Order, will abide by 5 its provisions, and will submit to the jurisdiction of this Court regarding the 6 enforcement of this Order's provisions.

7 2.1.4 A party's officers and/or employees, which may include in-house 8 counsel.

9 2.1.5 The Court, its clerks and secretaries, and any court reporter retained
 10 to record proceedings before the Court;

11 2.2 Materials Designated "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' 12 EYES ONLY": Subject to the limitations in this Protective Order, Designated 13 Materials may be marked "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES 14 ONLY" for the purpose of preventing the disclosure of information or materials 15 which, if disclosed to the receiving party, might cause competitive harm to the 16 Designating Party. Information and material that may be subject to this 17 protection includes, but is not limited to, technical and/or research and 18 development data, intellectual property, financial, marketing and other sales data, 19 and/or information having strategic commercial value pertaining to the 20 Designating Party's trade or business. Nothing in paragraph 2.1 shall limit the 21 information or material that can be designated "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – 22 ATTORNEYS' EYES ONLY" under this paragraph. Before designating any 23 specific information "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES 24 ONLY," the Designating Party's counsel shall make a good faith determination 25 that the information warrants such protection.

26 2.2.0 Materials designated "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS'
 27 EYES ONLY" materials may be disclosed only to the following Designees:

28 2.2.1 Persons who appear on the face of Designated Materials marked

1 “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” as an author, 2 addressee, or recipient thereof;

3 2.2.2 Counsel for the parties to this action, as defined in section 2.1.2;

4 2.2.3 Consultants for the parties to this action, as defined in section 2.1.3; 5 and

6 2.2.4 The Court, its clerks and secretaries, and any court reporter retained
7 to record proceedings before the Court.

8 2.2.5 Court reporters retained to transcribe depositions.

9 2.3 If any party wishes to disclose information or materials designated 10 under this Protective Order as “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL,” “CONFIDENTIAL 11 – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” to any Consultant, it must first identify that 12 individual to the Counsel for the Designating Party and submit a Certification of 13 Consultant pursuant to Section 3. CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES
14 ONLY

15 2.4 Legal Effect of Designation. The designation of any information or 16 materials as “CONFIDENTIAL,” “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ 17 EYES ONLY” is intended solely to facilitate the conduct of this litigation.
18 Neither such designation nor treatment in conformity with such designation shall 19 be construed in any way as an admission or agreement by any party that the 20 Designated Materials constitute or contain any trade secret or confidential 21 information. Except as provided in this Protective Order, no party to this action 22 shall be obligated to challenge the propriety of any designation, and a failure to 23 do so shall not preclude a subsequent attack on the propriety of such designation.

24 2.5 Nothing herein in any way restricts the ability of the receiving party
25 to use “CONFIDENTIAL,” “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ 26 EYES ONLY” material produced to it in examining or cross-examining any 27 employee or consultant of the Designating Party.

28 2.6 The parties agree that the Plaintiff may be provided the alleged infringers' full identities, revenues, and gross profits numbers, notwithstanding any party's designation of documents showing such figures as "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES ONLY".

3. Certificates Concerning Designated Materials. Each Consultant as defined in section 2.1.3, to whom any Designated Materials will be disclosed shall, prior to disclosure of such material, execute the Acknowledgement of Stipulated Protective Order in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. Counsel who makes any disclosure of Designated Materials shall retain each executed Acknowledgement of Stipulated Protective Order and shall circulate copies to all Counsel for the opposing party concurrently with the identification of the Consultant to the attorneys for the Designating Party pursuant to Section 2.3.

4. Use of Designated Materials by Designating Party. Nothing in this Protective Order shall limit a Designating Party's use of its own information or materials, or prevent a Designating Party from disclosing its own information or materials to any person. Such disclosure shall not affect any designations made pursuant to the terms of this Protective Order, so long as the disclosure is made in a manner that is reasonably calculated to maintain the confidentiality of the information.

5. Manner of Designating Written Materials.

5.1 Documents, discovery responses and other written materials shall be designated as "CONFIDENTIAL," "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES ONLY" whether in whole or in part, as follows.

5.2 The producing party shall designate materials by placing the legend "CONFIDENTIAL," "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES ONLY" on each page so designated prior to production. If the first or cover page of a multi-page document bears the legend "CONFIDENTIAL," "HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS' EYES ONLY" the entire document shall be deemed so designated, and the absence of marking each page shall not constitute

1 a waiver of the terms of this Order. If the label affixed to a computer disk
2 containing multiple files bears the legend “CONFIDENTIAL,” 3 “CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” the entire disk shall be 4 deemed so protected, and the absence of marking of each file shall not constitute 5 a waiver of the terms of this Order.

6 5.3 A designation of “CONFIDENTIAL,” or “HIGHLY 7 CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” as to any item, thing or 8 object that cannot otherwise be categorized as a document, shall be made: (1) by 9 placing the legend “CONFIDENTIAL,” or “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – 10 ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” on the thing, object or container within which it is 11 stored; or (2) by specifically identifying, in writing, the item and the level of 12 confidentiality designation, where such labeling is not feasible.

13 5.4 When a party wishes to designate as “CONFIDENTIAL,” or 14 “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” materials
15 produced by someone other than the Designating Party (a “Producing Party”), 16 such designation shall be made:

17 5.4.1 Within fifteen (15) business days from the date that the Designating 18 Party receives copies of the materials from the producing or disclosing entity; and 19 5.4.2 By notice to all parties to this action and to the Producing Party, if 20 such party is not a party to this action, identifying the materials to be designated 21 with particularity (either by production numbers or by providing other adequate 22 identification of the specific material). Such notice shall be sent by facsimile and 23 regular mail.

24 5.4.3. A party shall be permitted to designate as “CONFIDENTIAL,” or 25 “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” material produced 26 by a Producing Party only where:

27 a. The material being produced was provided to or developed by such 28 Producing Party: (i) under a written confidentiality agreement with the Designating

1 Party; or (ii) within a relationship with the Designating Party (or a party operating 2 under the control thereof) in which confidentiality is imposed by law (including, 3 but not limited, to the employment relationship and the vendor-customer 4 relationship); and

5 b. The material being produced would be considered confidential material 6 of the Designating Party under Section 2.1 of this Agreement if it were in the 7 possession of the Designating Party.

8 5.5 Upon notice of designation, all persons receiving notice of the 9 requested designation of materials shall:

10 5.5.1 Make no further disclosure of such Designated Material or 11 information contained therein, except as allowed in this Protective Order;

12 5.5.2 Take reasonable steps to notify any persons known to have 13 possession of or access to such Designated Materials of the effect of such 14 designation under this Protective Order; and

15 5.5.3 If “CONFIDENTIAL,” or “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – 16 ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” material or information contained therein is 17 disclosed to any person other than those entitled to disclosure in the manner 18 authorized by this Protective Order, the party responsible for the disclosure shall, 19 immediately upon learning of such disclosure, inform the Designating Party in 20 writing of all pertinent facts relating to such disclosure, and shall make every 21 effort to prevent further disclosure by the unauthorized person(s).

22 6. Manner of Designating Deposition Testimony.

23 6.1 Deposition transcripts and portions thereof taken in this action may 24 be designated as “CONFIDENTIAL,” or “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – 25 ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” during the deposition or after, in which case the 26 portion of the transcript containing Designated Material shall be identified in the 27 transcript by the Court Reporter as “CONFIDENTIAL,” or “HIGHLY 28 CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY.” The designated testimony

1 shall be bound in a separate volume and marked by the reporter accordingly.

2 6.2 Where testimony is designated during the deposition, the 3 Designating Party shall have the right to exclude, at those portions of the 4 deposition, all persons not authorized by the terms of this Protective Order to 5 receive such Designated Material.

6 6.3 Within thirty (30) days after a deposition transcript is certified by the 7 court reporter, any party may designate pages of the transcript and/or its exhibits 8 as Designated Material. During such thirty (30) day period, the transcript in its 9 entirety shall be treated as “CONFIDENTIAL” (except for those portions 10 identified earlier as “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES 11 ONLY” which shall be treated accordingly from the date of designation). If any 12 party so designates such material, the parties shall provide written notice of such 13 designation to all parties within the thirty (30) day period. Designated Material 14 within the deposition transcript or the exhibits thereto may be identified in 15 writing by page and line, or by underlining and marking such portions 16 “CONFIDENTIAL,” “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES
17 ONLY” and providing such marked-up portions to all counsel.

18 7. Copies. All complete or partial copies of a document that disclose 19 Designated Materials shall be subject to the terms of this Protective Order.

20 8. Court Procedures.

21 8.1 Disclosure of Designated Material to Court Officials. Subject to the 22 provisions of this section, Designated Material may be disclosed to the Court, 23 Court officials or employees involved in this action (including court reporters, 24 persons operating video recording equipment at depositions, and any special 25 master, referee, expert, technical advisor or Third-Party Consultant appointed by 26 the Court), and to the jury in this action, and any interpreters interpreting on 27 behalf of any party or deponent.

28 8.2

1 Filing Designated Materials with the Court. Nothing in this Order shall vary 2 the requirements for filing under Seal imposed by the Federal Rules of Civil 3 Procedure or the Local Rules of this Court. If a party wishes to file with the Court 4 any document, transcript or thing containing information which has been 5 designated “CONFIDENTIAL,” or “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – 6 ATTORNEYS’ EYES ONLY” that Party shall follow the procedures set forth in 7 Local rule 79-5.2.2 (which sets out different procedures depending upon whether 8 or not the party seeking to file material under seal is the same party which 9 designated the material as confidential) and ensure the materials are marked with 10 the legend:

11 “[CONFIDENTIAL, or HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES
 12 ONLY] INFORMATION SUBJECT TO PROTECTIVE ORDER.”

13 Good cause for the under seal filing must be shown. Filing the document 14 under seal shall not bar any party from unrestricted use or dissemination of those 15 portions of the document that do not contain material designated
 16 “CONFIDENTIAL,” or “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES 17 ONLY.” If a filing party fails to seek to file under seal items which a party in 18 good faith believes to have been designated as or to constitute 19 “CONFIDENTIAL,” or “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL – ATTORNEYS’ EYES 20 ONLY” material, such party may move the Court to file said information under 21 seal within four (4) days of service of the original filing. Notice of such 22 designation shall be given to all parties. Nothing in this provision relieves a party 23 of liability for damages caused by failure to properly seek the filing of Designated 24 Material under seal in accordance with Local Rule 79-5.2.2.

25 8.3 Retrieval of Designated Materials. The party responsible for lodging 26 or filing the Designated Materials shall be responsible for retrieving such 27 Designated Materials from the Court following the final termination of the action 28 (including after any appeals), to the extent the Court permits such retrieval.

1 9 CHALLENGING CONFIDENTIALITY DESIGNATIONS

2 9.1 Timing of Challenges. Any Party or Non-Party may challenge a 3 designation of confidentiality at (the “Challenging Party”) at any time consistent 4 with the Court’s scheduling order(s). Unless a prompt challenge to a Designating 5 Party’s confidentiality designation is necessary to avoid foreseeable, substantial 6 unfairness, unnecessary economic burdens, or a significant disruption or delay of 7 the litigation, a Party does not waive its right to challenge a confidentiality 8 designation by electing not to mount a challenge promptly after the original 9 designation is disclosed.

10 9.2 Meet and Confer. The Challenging Party shall initiate the dispute 11 resolution process by providing written notice of each designation it is challenging 12 and describing the basis for each challenge. To avoid ambiguity as to whether a 13 challenge has been made, the written notice must recite that the challenge to 14 confidentiality is being made in accordance with this specific paragraph of the 15 Protective Order. The parties shall attempt to resolve each challenge in good faith 16 and must begin the process by conferring directly (in voice to voice dialogue; other 17 forms of communication are not sufficient) within 14 days of the date of service of 18 notice. In conferring, the Challenging Party must explain the basis for its belief 19 that the confidentiality designation was not proper and must give the Designating 20 Party an opportunity to review the designated material, to reconsider the 21 circumstances, and, if no change in designation is offered, to explain the basis for 22 the chosen designation. A Challenging Party may proceed to the next stage of the 23 challenge process only if it has engaged in this meet and confer process first or 24 establishes that the Designating Party is unwilling to participate in the meet and 25 confer process in a timely manner.

26 9.3 Judicial Intervention. If the Parties cannot resolve a challenge without 27 court intervention, the Challenging Party shall file and serve a motion to challenge 28 confidentiality under Civil Local Rule 37-1 et seq. (and in compliance with Civil

1 Local Rule 79-5.1, if applicable) within 21 days of the initial notice of challenge or 2 within 14 days of the parties agreeing that the meet and confer process will not 3 resolve their dispute, whichever is earlier. Each such motion must be accompanied 4 by a competent declaration affirming that the movant has complied with the meet 5 and confer requirements imposed in the preceding paragraph. Failure by the 6 Challenging Party to make such a motion including the required declaration within 7 21 days (or 14 days, if applicable) shall automatically waive the ability to 8 challenge the confidentiality designation for each challenged designation. In 9 addition, the Designating Party may file a motion for a protective order preserving 10 the confidential designation at any time if there is good cause for doing so. Any 11 motion brought pursuant to this provision must be accompanied by a competent 12 declaration affirming that the movant has complied with the meet and confer 13 requirements imposed by the preceding paragraph.

14 The burden of persuasion in any such challenge proceeding shall be on the 15 Challenging Party. Frivolous challenges and those made for an improper purpose 16 (e.g., to harass or impose unnecessary expenses and burdens on other parties) may 17 expose the Challenging Party to sanctions. Until such time as a determination has 18 been made on any such motion by the Court, all parties shall continue to afford the 19 material in question the level of protection to which it is entitled under the 20 Producing Party's designation until the court rules on the challenge.

21 10. Client Communication. Nothing in this Protective Order shall 22 prevent or otherwise restrict counsel from rendering advice to their clients and, in 23 the course of rendering such advice, relying upon the examination of Designated 24 Material. In rendering such advice and otherwise communicating with the client, 25 however, counsel shall not disclose any Designated Material, except as otherwise 26 permitted by this Protective Order.

27 11. No Prejudice.

28 11.1 This Protective Order shall not diminish any existing obligation or

1 right with respect to Designated Material, nor shall it prevent a disclosure to 2 which the Designating Party consented in writing before the disclosure takes 3 place.

4 11.2 Unless the parties stipulate otherwise, evidence of the existence or 5 nonexistence of a designation under this Protective Order shall not be admissible 6 for any purpose during any proceeding on the merits of this action.

7 11.3 If any party required to produce documents contends that it 8 inadvertently produced any Designated Material without marking it with the 9 appropriate legend, or inadvertently produced any Designated Material with an 10 incorrect legend, the producing party may give written notice to the receiving 11 party or parties, including appropriately stamped substitute copies of the 12 Designated Material. If the parties collectively agree to replacement of the 13 Designated Material, then the documents will be so designated. Within five (5) 14 business days of receipt of the substitute copies, the receiving party shall return 15 the previously unmarked or mismarked items and all copies thereof. If the parties 16 do not collectively agree to replacement of the Designated Material, the 17 producing party shall comply with the procedure of Local Rule 37 in seeking 18 protection for the inadvertently produced material.

19 11.4 Neither the provisions of this Protective Order, nor the filing of any 20 material under seal, shall prevent the use in open court, in deposition, at any 21 hearing, or at trial of this case of any material that is subject to this Protective 22 Order or filed under seal pursuant to its provisions. At deposition, the party using 23 Designated Material must request that the portion of the proceeding where use is 24 made be conducted so as to exclude persons not qualified to receive such 25 Designated Material. At trial, the party using Designated Material must request 26 that the portion of the proceeding where use is made be conducted so as to 27 exclude persons not qualified to receive such Designated Material. All 28 confidentiality designations or legends placed pursuant to this Stipulated

1 Protective Order shall be removed from any document or thing used as a trial 2 exhibit in this case. The removal of such confidentiality designations or legends 3 under the preceding sentence shall not affect the treatment of such documents and 4 things as Designated Material under this Stipulated Protective Order. Upon 5 request of a party, the parties shall meet and confer concerning the use and 6 protection of Designated Material in open court at any hearing. Prior to the 7 pretrial conference, the parties shall meet and confer concerning appropriate 8 methods for dealing with Designated Material at trial.

9 11.5 Any inadvertent production of documents containing privileged 10 information shall not be deemed to be a waiver of the attorney-client privilege, 11 work product doctrine, or any other applicable privilege or doctrines. All parties 12 specifically reserve the right to demand the return of any privileged documents 13 that it may produce inadvertently during discovery if the producing party 14 determines that such documents contain privileged information. After receiving 15 notice of such inadvertent production by the producing party, the receiving party 16 agrees to make reasonable and good faith efforts to locate and return to the 17 producing party all such inadvertently produced documents.

18 12. Modification and Survival.

19 12.1 Modification. The parties reserve the right to seek modification of 20 this Protective Order at any time for good cause. The parties agree to meet and 21 confer prior to seeking to modify this Protective Order for any reason. The 22 restrictions imposed by this Protective Order may only be modified or terminated 23 by written stipulation of all parties or by order of this Court. Parties entering into 24 this Protective Order will not be deemed to have waived any of their rights to 25 seek later amendment to this Protective Order.

26 12.2 Survival and Return of Designated Material. This Protective Order 27 shall survive termination of this action prior to trial of this action. Upon final 28 termination of the action prior to trial of this action, and at the written request

1 of the Designating Party, all Designated Material, including deposition 2 testimony, and all copies thereof, except for copies of designated materials in 3 the possession of the Court or Court personnel, shall be returned to counsel 4 for the Designating Party or, at the option of the Designating Party, shall be 5 destroyed. Upon request for the return or destruction of Designated 6 Materials, counsel shall certify their compliance with this provision and shall 7 serve such certification to counsel for the Designating Party not more than 8 ninety (90) days after the written request to return or destroy Designated 9 Materials. Counsel who have submitted one or more Certificate(s) prepared 10 pursuant to Section 3 do not need to retain such Certificate(s) past the ninety 11 (90) day period.

12 13. No Contract. This Protective Order shall not be construed to 13 create a contract between the parties or between the parties and their 14 respective counsel.

15 14. Court's Retention of Jurisdiction. The Court retains jurisdiction 16 after final termination of the action prior to trial, to enforce this Stipulation.

2 15. Exception for Public Information. Nothing in this Stipulation shall be 3 deemed in any way to restrict the use of documents or information which are 4 lawfully obtained or publicly available to a party independently of discovery in this 5 action, whether or not the same material has been obtained during the course of 6 discovery in the action and whether or not such documents or information have 7 been designated hereunder. However, in the event of a dispute regarding such 8 independent acquisition, a party wishing to use any independently acquired 9 documents or information shall bear the burden of proving independent 10 acquisition.
